WHY TAKE A FOUNDATION PROGRAMME

- ◆ To 'bridge the gap' between Saudi High School and International University
- ◆ The Foundation prepares international students, including Saudi students, for university in several different ways as will be explained in these slides.
- ◆ In the UK, Australia and Canada students complete their high school studies after 13 years of schooling while in most other countries this is completed in 12 years. Therefore, to enter university in these 3 countries most international students must do a one-year pre-university programme called a 'Foundation Year'.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

- ◆ Designed for international students, this programme bridges the gap between secondary education and university study, equipping you with essential academic and English skills. It provides direct entry to over 7,500 degree courses at 60+ NCUK University Partners worldwide.

The IFY provides direct entry to the 1st year of a university degree (or entry onto the NCUK International Year One).

HOW DOES IT WORK?

WHAT MODULES WILL I STUDY?

There are 3 additional subjects required for each students attending the NCUK International Foundation Year. Depending on the choice of Foundation, you will study the following topics:

ENGLISH LANGUAGE MODULE

NCUK's English language modules show that you:

NCUK's English language module develops your skills in speaking, listening, writing, and reading, with tailored levels based on your current English proficiency. You will study one of three English language modules based on your English language proficiency.

Can communicate effectively orally and in writing in an academic environment

Understand academic integrity and can demonstrate it in your work

Have a level of English that enables you to meet the challenges of disciplinary study at university

Did you know?

NCUK's English language modules are widely accepted by NCUK University Partners as proof of English proficiency, removing the need for additional IELTS tests.

WHY IN-KINGDOM (KSA)

Category	Typical UK Range	Notes	KSA
Tuition Fee	£15,000- £22,000 = ≈ 75,000-110,000	Varies by course and provider (Science/Medicine higher)	£10,000 (inclusive) ≈ 50,000
Accommodation	£5,000- £12,000 = ≈ 25,000-60,000	Depends on city, room type, and catering
Living Expenses	£7,000 - £12,000 = ≈ 35,000-60,000	Includes food, transport, personal items	£6,500 - £8,500 ≈ 32,500 - 42,500 (if not with family)
Miscellaneous	£7,000 - £12,000 = ≈ 35,000-60,000	Fights, Visa, Registration, Health Fee, Study Materials etc

By choosing to study our internationally recognised Foundation Programme here in the Kingdom, students can enjoy the comfort of their culture and family support—while avoiding the risk that affects 12–15% of students who go abroad too soon, many of whom struggle academically and culturally, leading to early dropout.

Significantly reduce overall costs

SOFT LANDING HIGHER ATTAINMENT

Drop Out rates during or post-foundation sits at between 1s not insignificant, with lack of preparedness for the academic and culture shock being the lead reasons.

With exactly the same curriculum, progression routes and university acceptance guarantees as a student studying in the UK, we can use the year to prepare them for the required academic rigor and cultural expectations without the overwhelming shock of directly starting abroad.

Extended consideration of subject choice
